Purpose of this Report

1. The purpose of this report is to record formally RHHA patrol operations and inform the Duty Holder of significant events and trends having a bearing on the Marine Safety Management System.

Recommendation

2. It is recommended that the River Hamble Harbour Management Committee supports the contents of this report to the Harbour Board.

Executive Summary

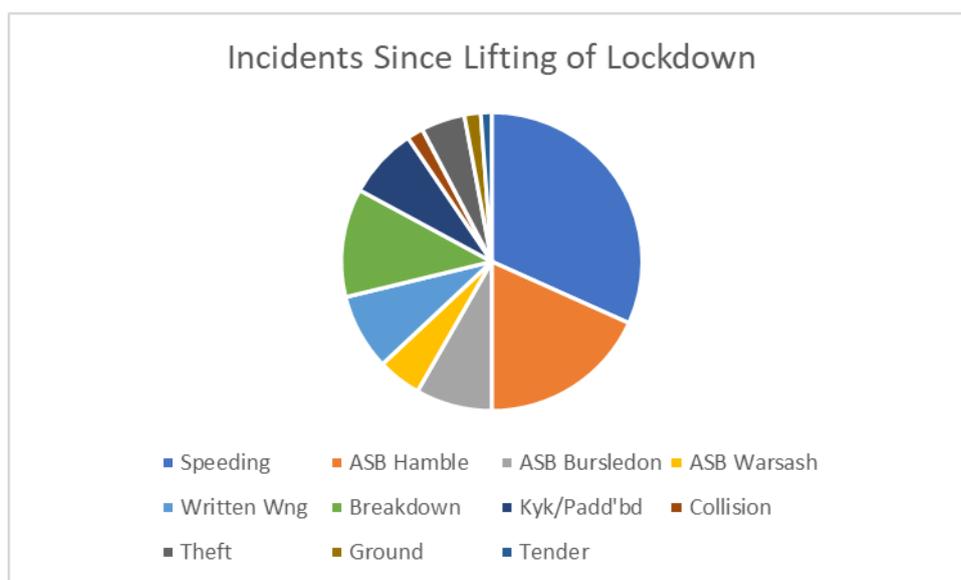

3. This report summarises the incidents and events which have taken place in the Harbour and addresses any issues currently under consideration by the Harbour Master. It covers a longer period because of the effect of Coronavirus on Governance meetings.

Contextual Information

Patrols

4. The Harbour has been patrolled by the Duty Harbour Master at various times between 0700 and 2230 daily. Mooring and pontoon checks have been conducted daily throughout the period. During the period of Government lockdown because of COVID 19, Harbour Patrols conducted additional patrols for reassurance purposes at mooring holders' requests. The Harbour Authority also supported and facilitated legitimate commercial work during this period, liaising with adjacent Harbour Authorities and the Coast Guard. Further additional activity daily under lockdown included policing Government restrictions and fielding calls from River Users wishing to stay on their boats as well as small craft users wishing to 'exercise' upon the water. The full list of incidents and events is at the Appendix to this report. Throughout the COVID restrictions and since, the volume of daily support activity listed above has been considerable and the amount of text in no way reflects the levels of activity, in particular anti-social activity, experienced.

Comparison of data with that from the same period last year is difficult. It is significant that, when added together, speeding and anti-social behaviour are most common, most notably at Hamble Quay.

Issues

- 6. Coronavirus Restrictions – The Harbour Authority has sustained its marine safety and environmental services unbroken throughout the Coronavirus outbreak. It has supported legitimate commercial traffic and businesses which could not operate from home throughout and advised on practical measures to remain compliant with changes in legislation. It has also informed and updated private mooring holders and marine businesses of changes and managed expectations of those anxious about their vessels. Adherence to the Law and guidelines has generally been very good with the very small number challenged on the water receptive. The lifting in restrictions, combined with the closure of schools and the furlough initiative saw an explosion in marine activity. This activity has been broad and seen a huge increase in paddleboard and kayak use, as well as in the use of Personalised Water Craft (jet skis) from Warsash. It has also brought about an increase in the number of occurrences of anti-social behaviour. Extra patrols have been required to police the changing guidelines and support legitimate commercial traffic. These patrols also focused heavily on providing reassurance to the many River Users unable to visit their vessels in lockdown. Tailored support has been provided at no cost to mooring holders. In delivering this enhanced support, the Harbour Team has faced challenges with partners shielding and safeguarding of its own health and wellbeing through changes in procedures. A thorough Risk Assessment was conducted with additional control measures put in place to remain compliant and ensure robust capability delivery. The office remains closed to the Public but this is not affecting business operations and our position is fully sustainable. The uncertainty of our annual Visitor income, representing around £45000 caused initial concern. Vastly increased boating activity since the lifting in restrictions has been encouraging however. Last year, our visitors' and launching income at the end of July stood at £18000. This year has seen income of £10900. This latter figure represents income taken over 10 weeks and, while further Government restrictions cannot be ruled out, we continue to make inroads on the shortfall brought about by a fallow Easter period daily. Updates will be provided at future meetings.

7. Navigational Matters – The return of people to the water in May and since has brought additional challenges. Paddle boarding and kayaking has become more popular with larger numbers than ever using the River. While this has taken place everywhere in the River, the main centre for such launching has been the slipway at Swanwick. Here, the large number of those launching, many of them very inexperienced, combined with the large number of vessels navigating from and to their home berths in the many marinas and yards has brought friction and complaints. Many private individuals have bought paddle boards and kayaks and two paddle boarding companies have established themselves to take advantage of the business opportunity. This has made the River (and Swanwick car park) very busy. Recognising the challenges brought about by this, the Harbour Authority has reviewed the risks and put in place additional control measures which rely on both paddleboarders and craft navigating in the area to comply with existing clear Rules and new instructions, designed to minimise paddle board and kayak/canoe activity in the Main Channel. It is important to acknowledge that small craft cannot be prevented from accessing the water, nor would the Harbour Authority wish to. Board policy is rightly to encourage such use of the River. The Harbour Authority has commissioned and put in place signage to direct small craft out of the Main Channel. In doing so, it has recognised that these users will generally be less familiar with the International Regulations for the Prevention of Collisions at Sea. It has therefore developed signage using plain English and pictorial representations. The signage informs these users that they should not remain in the Main Channel but, taking account of the traffic, cross the River perpendicularly to pass inshore of the 'U' and 'V' pontoons on the Bursledon bank before crossing again, where visibility is best from the Jolly Sailor to the inshore channel on the Fareham side between the 'Z' pontoons at the Training Wall. Further signage guides craft to keep to the right towards the Rail bridge and thence upstream. Reverse signage is also in place. This regime is supported by placing a patrol officer in the vicinity at particularly busy times. Patrol has also been moving on those from small craft who have been using private pontoons as sunbathing platforms. It must be recognised that larger craft using the area also have obligations, regardless of how busy the area may be. These obligations are based on International Regulations for the Prevention of Collisions at Sea (IRPCS) Rules 2 (responsibility), 5 (proper look out), 6 (safe speed) and 8 (action to avoid a collision), in particular 8 f (i) (ii) and (iii). These Rules apply within the River as elsewhere under IRPCS Rule 1 and General Direction Number 2. Owners and Skippers must be familiar with these Rules and the obligation placed upon them to navigate responsibly.

The River has also seen an increased number of Jet Ski launches from the slipway at Warsash brought about in part by closure of slipways at some other local harbours. Lack of knowledge or ignorance of the River Hamble Bye Laws has introduced additional challenges. Speeding, 'doughnuts' (circling at pace) and some abrasive behaviour has been encountered from a minority. It must be emphasised that most craft conform and are keen to learn. The RHHA takes payment for launches over the telephone. Riders are now briefed on the Bye Laws and what not to do in the wider Solent (approach commercial traffic within 500m). This has reduced the impact on other River Users and Harbour Authority patrols. Nevertheless, presence and liaison with the Marine Police Unit has led to a number of 'stops' and will potentially lead to three prosecutions for particularly irresponsible actions. I should like to register my thanks here to the Marine Unit which has been particularly pro-active both in the Hamble and outside. Finally, I would add that Jet Ski riders are particularly strong when it comes to settling Harbour Dues.

8. Anti-social and Criminal Behaviour – The lifting in lock down restrictions, combined with the closure of schools have been key factors in a surge in anti-social behaviour. With one notable exception – that of a threat of violence to RHHA personnel at Warsash, this has predominated on the West bank of the River in three locations: Hamble Jetty, Bursledon Bridge and from the fields to the North of the M27 Bridge. Every occurrence has been caused by large groups of young people. Examples of behaviour include the overt use of Class B drugs, under-age drinking, physical violence, theft and criminal damage. The Harbour Authority is not the proper authority to deal with this activity, nor is it able to deal with the underlying social causes. Instead, its role is to support the proper and responsible authorities, the Police, Eastleigh Borough Council and the relevant Parish Councils. The Police have attended all three locations following calls from members of the Public and from the Harbour Authority. Routine visits to Hamble Jetty by Patrol have been effective in clearing the jetty of swimmers. However, this problem is a broader one. Joint effort is ongoing to support those responsible in identification of perpetrators using body-worn cameras. At Hamble, we have combined presence at busy times with signage banning the use of the jetty for all but those accessing it for the Pink Ferry and to access boats. Additional reasonable control measures include anti-climb paint on the bridge gantry. Given the Ferry's requirement for routine access and the fact that visitors may arrive after the Harbour Office has closed, it is not practicable or reasonable to lock the jetty. The Riverbed is surveyed regularly to ensure that obvious hazards are removed.

The A27 bridge has seen regular 'tombstoning'. Here, as elsewhere, the Police have attended regularly. Harbour Patrol presence, while marshalling paddleboarders and kayakers locally is effective in deterring those wishing to jump and alight from the adjacent slipway. Again, body-worn cameras are used under authorised arrangements to assist the police in the identification of those responsible.

The farmer's field on the West bank opposite Eastlands Boatyard has been a regular launching point in fine weather for swimmers across the Channel and climbing on vessels and pontoons. Verbal abuse here has been stronger than at most other locations and the throwing of missiles at passing boats is encountered. Alcohol is regularly a contributing factor. Police attendance has been frequent, and Harbour Patrols have achieved some limited success in dispersing the perpetrators.

In summary, it is striking that this social order problem takes place almost entirely on the West Bank of the River and is perpetrated by young people. Constants are verbal abuse and physical threats of violence from minors, under-age drinking and the use of Class B drugs. There is little if any respect for authority or private property. The Harbour Authority will continue to act in support of the proper authorities in any way it can while not compromising its statutory safety duties. While letters to parents and school headteachers from the Harbour Master can help, our powers are limited. While the River is a draw for these individuals, this is a much broader social problem which must continue to be addressed for reasons of public safety.

As part of a comprehensive risk assessment, 'simple' signage directing small craft decided upon, including a larger sign ashore, making clear the risks of impeding larger traffic. Notes sent also to marinas, yards and large craft owners about the responsibility of large craft in planning their journeys in the light of heavier traffic density.
